RE: Transportation Technology Innovation and Demonstration & Traffic.com

Dear Mr. Werner:

I am in receipt of your most recent complaint that you sent to Chairman Christopher Cox of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

We are extremely grateful to you, as we are to all members of the public who bring information to our attention regarding possible violations of the federal securities laws. Such information is of great benefit to us in fulfilling our responsibilities. Please also be advised that it is the Commission's policy generally to conduct inquiries on a confidential basis. This is done to protect the integrity of an investigation from premature disclosure and to protect the personal privacy of persons with respect to whom unfounded charges may be made. Thus, subject to applicable provisions of the Freedom of Information Act, as amended, the existence of an investigation is generally not disclosed unless it is made a matter of the public record in proceedings instituted before the Commission or in the courts. However, your concern in this matter is noted, and we assure you that the information supplied by you will be considered carefully in accordance with the Commission's responsibilities under the federal securities laws.

Although the Commission is always eager to be of assistance to investors, we are not authorized under the Federal securities laws to advise or directly assist individuals in connection with the assertion of their personal rights or claims. Thank you again for providing this information to us.

Sincerely,

Samuel J. Bezek
Senior Counsel
